

MARINE NOTICE - Tropical Storm USAGI

Dear Members,

The Marine Office would like to advise you that the HK Observatory shows that Tropical Storm USAGI is heading towards Hong Kong and it is estimated it will be closest to the Territory Sunday evening. At present they are forecasting sustained winds of over 60 knots, with winds gusting stronger.

As we all know the Observatory does not always get their forecasting correct we are advising Members to prepare their boat for the storm as soon as possible. Boat owners should add extra mooring lines and anti-chaff material to their mooring lines. Canvas and sails should be taken off or at the very least secured, and all loose equipment stored below. Canvas, awnings and sails are not covered by insurance. For more information please check the Clubs new website.

Thank you for your attention.
